As One Goes Around

Mexico City is reaping a big tourist airplane travel at this time. A friend of mine, just back from there, told me the fare to the Capital of the Republic and back was $212. He and his wife had made the trip and found almost perfect traveling conditions and no tourist gouging. Rooms at La Reforma, an excellent hotel were $7.00. They left San Francisco early one day and late the next evening were in the Federal District. The Government is handling mistreatment of visitors in a sensible way, I was told. Officials see to it no overcharges are tolerated. Offenders are not warned, when they offend. They are fined and persistent violators are put out of business. The San Franciscans got into no store or business place they did not find some one who spoke English and assisted them in transacting whatever matters required attention.

At the outbreak of the rush to the Klondyke as many as 20,000 people were in Skagway, most of them intent on pushing into the interior. Sanitary conditions were, naturally, considerably overlooked and a case of smallpox broke out. It had a most upsetting effect. Merchants of Skagway feared for business reasons an epidemic would be disastrous and transportation companies were alarmed over the possibility of ships being quarantined. It was an instance where something had to be done and forthwith an isolation camp was determined upon and the lone case of smallpox that had developed in pronounced form was looked after rigidly. A tent was erected near Skagway river and a bed, table and chairs placed therein. Then a nurse was hired to look after the patient. A recovery followed in 10 days. The morning after the patient was released Indians made a raid on the tent and stole the bedding and, undoubtedly, slept in the blankets that night.

No new cases developed.

The fact there was no outbreak among the Indians who made away with the bedding rather broke my belief in the old contention exposure to smallpox almost always resulted in a spread of the disease.

On the very spot on the Southeast corner of The Plaza at Santa Fe the caravans coming from the Missouri river used to end their long journey there today stands a magnificent tourist hotel. Those early day trips across the plains to Santa Fe, even by the way of Cimmaron cut-off, measured 775 miles. The caravans used to average 15 miles a day and in them there were anywhere from 75 to 200 oxen and horses. Later on came the schooner trains and each of them was made up of 26 wagons and they were drawn by five yoke of oxen or six spans of mules. Stage coach fare was $250, including meals, and it required two weeks to make the journey. Today rates at the swank La Fonda in Santa Fe are $10.00, but you can make the trip by train from the New Mexican capital to Missouri river points for $20.00.

As you sailed from Progresso, Yucatan, along the old Spanish Main, through the Gulf of Mexico, summer nights, passengers on the Ward Liners used to stand by the rail and were, almost invariably, treated to a strange marine exhibition of what looked like flying fish. These denizens of the sea were large in size, almost as big as porpoise, and they would leap out of the water short distances from the ship and as they did so there was reflected off their backs a vari-hued coloring, very much like that which comes from a diamond ring flash. They followed a ship to pick up food cast overboard. Sword fish were the deadly enemies of the phosphorescence emitting fish and as soon as a sword fish saw one of them, it would attack and a battle royal would begin, for, as quickly as the light exuding fish saw the sword fish go after one of their species, they would rush into it and the battle, which always developed near the surface of the ocean, was on.

In San Francisco the other day I dropped into a tavern two friends of mine operate. They appeared to be doing a tremendous business — waitresses were making $15 a day in tips and the cash registers seemed to need an extra amount of oil they were worked so fast. Three chefs were knocking down $14.00 each. Both of the owners were working. Still each had a grouch and appeared not to want to be civil. One of the owners said he would sell out, if he could get what he had put into the place. I talked to the other partner and he told me the same thing. Curiosity prompted me to inquire what caused the dissatisfaction. I was told there was too much business and that the money they were taking in was only 40 cent dollars. Help was not to be depended upon and the owners were working themselves ragged.

I got to wondering if these two old friends of mine did not know the free-spending days would come to an end one of these mornings—If it had ever occurred to them it might not be a bad idea to put some of this easy coming in money into bonds and put the bonds away for the time flushness would not be driving people to despair!

PLANTS STORE BIG SUPPLIES OF STOCK LOGS

Mills Reserving Great Amount To Be Used During Winter

CREWS GROW LARGER

Heavy Shipments Being Made By Rail, Trucks Daily

Special Correspondence of The Press

FORT Bragg, Sept. 16.—At Caspar report is logs are being piled for winter sawing. The supply coming in from the woods is greater than the plant can handle at the present time. The crew in the mill at Caspar is rapidly approaching old-time size.

Logs Are Plentiful.

The same abundance of logs as prevails at Caspar is seen here and a big log reserve is beginning to be accumulated, this in spite of the fact two headrigs are being operated. Lumber continues to be shipped daily, both by truck and rail. More employes are on the payroll this week than at any time since operations started.

Rockport Does Well.

At Rockport, also, favorable operating conditions are said to prevail.

Business Men Choose Officres.

The Fort Bragg Chamber of Commerce has elected the following officers and directors: Orman Oak, president; Vernon Johansen, secretary; Fred Schell, C. Louis Wood, Guido Benassini, Louis Cavalini, Bill Burke, Harold Rowe, Paul J. Racine, Apo Makela and Herman Hyman, directors.

High Officials Called.

The grand officers of the N. S. G. W. made an official visit to Alder Glen Parlor, Wednesday night. The grand officers are making a tour of the Redwood Empire and are holding class initiations in each parlor on their tour, Fort Bragg being the second stop on the trip. Alder Glen Parlor had a large class of candidates for initiation.

New Legion Officers.

Peglers Getting Ready.

Arrangements are being made for our next bowling tournament. Teams expected to enter this season include Lions Club, Standard Bottling Co., Richfield Service Station, Shell Oil Co., State Highway Department, College Inn, Welcome Inn, Advocate-News, Fire Department, Postoffice, Flying A and Caspar.

Outdoor People Meet And Hike.

The Contra Costa Hills Club was host to the fifteenth annual convention of Western Outdoor Clubs held at Mendocino Woodlands August 31 to September 2. One hundred seventy-five delegates, representing Outdoor Clubs of Washington, Oregon, Northern and Southern California and as far east as Salt Lake City, arrived by private cars, bus and air to take part in the convention. The meeting was addressed by Attorney Charles

LOCAR RESIDENT UNDERWENT A SERIOUS OPERATION IN CITY

TWO TRANSFUSIONS

Judge H. L. Preston was operated on Monday morning and a bothering gland removed. It was necessary to administer two blood transfusions, due to loss of a great deal of blood. The patient had a fair night and is resting comfortably today.

It was necessary to administer the anaesthetic at the spine, due to the fact Judge Preston is what is known in medical circles as a "bleeder" and two blood transfusions, probably, were necessary because of that fact.

Judge H. L. Preston Monday morning underwent an operation in Stanford-Lane Hospital. Dr. James R. Dillion was operating surgeon. The ailment for which Judge Preston is seeking relief is one of an old-standing nature and several years ago Judge Preston submitted to an operation for the sickness and rallied in an excellent manner at that time.

Stricken At Cheyenne.

A month ago Judge Preston, Mrs. Preston and son, Hugh, started to Tennessee to visit Judge Preston's brothers and members of their families and, at Cheyenne, Wyoming, Judge Preston suffered an attack and was compelled to be taken to a hospital in the Wyoming city and later continued on to Tennesee with Mrs. Preston and his son.

Not Long In Hospital.

It is not believed the stay in the Cheyenne hospital was of an extended nature, as a Ukiah resident, who happened to be in Cheyenne at the time, telephoned the Hospital with the idea of going to the institution and making a call on the Ukiah man, but was advised Judge Preston had already departed from the hospital and, presumably, resumed his trip to his old home.

Seemed To Gain Fast.

Reports on the condition of Judge Preston have come to Ukiah at frequent intervals since the first word from Cheyenne and it was believed here Judge Preston's condition had improved steadily and there was a hope an operation would not be necessary.

A Bad Indication.

Arrival in San Francisco Saturday probably determined, following a conference with Dr. James R. Dillion, an operation would be necessary and that it was of an imperative kind was indicated by the fact Mrs. Preston had planned to come here Saturday to be present at the wedding of Miss Marylou Hildreth and Rodney Zimmerman, but deferred making the trip because of the unsatisfactory condition in which Judge Preston was in and the seriousness of Judge Preston's case is reflected by the fact an operation was determined upon so shortly after the ailing Ukiahan had arrived in San Francisco.

His Local Surgeon.

Dr. H. O. Cleland, who operated on Judge Preston several years ago for the same ailment he is suffering at present, graduated in the same class with Dr. James R. Dillion, who was operating surgeon Monday morning, and says Doctor Dillion is held in the highest surgical rating as the last word in perfection in cases of the character Judge Preston must get relief from.

Many Are Anxious.

Yesterday and today many Phone calls have come to The Republican Press from Ukiah residents, who are concerned in the condition of Judge Preston, and there is a decidedly sorrowful expression manifested by those inquiring and all express a hope Judge Preston may rally quickly and be able to come home shortly.

'HANNA HOME' DRIVE STARTS

Six Counties Will Be Asked To Finance Boys' Refuge

The goal for Mendocino county in the Archbishop Hanna Center appeal, which opened Monday, has been set at $3,840, according to Mrs. W. C. Peters and James Andreani, co-chairmen for the county.

Six Counties Joined.

Mendocino county joined with six other counties in the drive to raise funds for erection of a shelter to care for boys from broken homes. Six other counties surrounding San Francisco Bay will begin their campaigns November 18. The total goal for the 13 counties of the Archdiocese has been placed at $975,000. According to His Excellency Archbishop Mitty, who initated the project in memory of his predecessor, the late Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, the undertaking is one of the most important to be carried on by the church in the past 20 years. The Archbishop has met with chairmen of all counties and is following the progress of mobilization with the keenest interest.

Tried And Proven Worthy.

Mrs. W. C. Peters pointed out Hanna Center is a tested and proven way of making good citizens out of under-privileged boys. A small center caring for 24 boys was opened in Menlo Park 18 months ago. The splendid results achieved with the youngsters, and its growing waiting list led to the decision to build a larger institution. The new Archbishop Hanna Center will be located near Danville, California. Boys from all counties of the Archdiocese will be admitted on the basis of greatest need, Mrs. Peters said.

Not One Failure.

The youngsters of Hanna Center come from homes where parental ignorance and neglect threatened to make them permanent community liabilities, unless they were given the specialized attention rendered at Hanna Center. At the Menlo center no boy has failed to respond to the good care, understanding and opportunities shown him. Without this type of attention, many of these boys would ultimately become delinquent and unnecessary burdens to the taxpayer, the co-chairman concluded.

GETTING CHECK-UP

Chairman Ed. Haehl, of the Board of Supervisors of this county, is at Stanford-Lane Hospital, San Francisco, undergoing a check-up. For many months Chairman Haehl has been suffering a severe case of arthritis. Hope is general Chairman Haehl may obtain relief of a permanent nature following his present visit to the Hospital.

Came Unexpectedly.

Sunday, as a surprise, Charles Hemenway, Jr., wife and two children, of Caspar, dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemenway of Covelo and passed the night and a day. Charles Hemenway, Jr., is a nephew of Charles Hemenway, of our town, and is head sawyer in Caspar sawmill.

Had Fine Time.

Another of the good old Hemenway barbecues was enjoyed last week by 14 neighbors of that area. Frank Hemenway and two grandsons, of Crescent City, were present to enjoy the grand feed and enjoyable get-together.

Get Encouraging Report.

Friends will be glad to learn that, in a recent check-up on her eyes in San Francisco, Mrs. Charles Hemenway learned during the last two months she has gained 15 percent more vision.

Back From Germany.

Pfc. Willburn Card, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Card, of Covelo, who has been overseas with the United States Army in Germany, is home again with his folks. He was recently discharged from the armed service.

Surprised Beloved Lady.

Monday afternoon a group of 38 ladies met at Mrs. Hattie Osborn's home and proceeded, en masse, to Mrs. Sam Gray's residence, across the street, to surprise Mrs. Frances Henley on her eighty-fifth birthday. Mrs. Henley had accepted Mrs. Gray's invitation to luncheon that noon and after everything had been cleared away, had likewise accepted the invitation to lie down and rest awhile.

Happily Awakened.

About 2:30 she was aroused by a chorus of voices singing "Happy Birthday To You," and the surprise was on! Unmistakeable, too, because "Happy Birthday, Dear Frankie," took care of that. Mrs. Henley was so completely surprised, she could not think of anything to say, but was very happy. Community singing followed with Mrs. Amy Redwine at the piano. Mrs. E. V. A. Murphey read a "Biblical" description of Mrs. Henley's life, which she had arranged and which was interesting and clever.

Remembered Also.

During the afternoon, it was discovered Mrs. Barkdull, one of the ladies present, would have a birthday next day, September 10, so it was decided she should be co-honoree with Mrs. Henley and when the beautiful white birthday cake with its pink candles was brought in, Mrs. Barkdell and her partner extinguished all candles with three puffs.

A Delightful Affair.

Mesdames May, Perry, Maggie Gray, May Hurt, Katherine Johnson, Fannie English and Emma Rice served refreshments of cake, coffee and tea. It was a very pleasant afternoon which left a very happy Mrs. Henley at its close.

Came To Hunt.

Charles Azbill and sister, Mrs. Erickson and husband were up from Ukiah last week on a hunting trip.

End Their Stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hoschouer, who have been visiting Mrs. Hoschouer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tabor, in Covelo, returned to their home in Klamath last week.

To Remain Longer.

Mrs. Ella Osborn, and son, Delbert, of San Anselmo, drove to Covelo last week. Mr. Osborne returned to San Anselmo but his mother will visit friends in Covelo a while before returning.

Helped Neighboring Town.

The Covelo Fire Suppression crew was called to Laytonville last week to help control fires in that section.

Consulted Surgeon.

Mrs. William Rome took her son, Percy, to Willits Tuesday to have the cast taken off his arm.

Doubly Afflicted.

TALE OF THREE-DEATH ACCIDENT SHOWED LIQUOR WAS CONSUMED

Car Shot Through Space 30 Feet—Three Victims Died Instantly — Driver Of The Car, In Hospital, May Recover

(The Willits News)

His chest crushed and suffering numerous other injuries, Forrest J. Jordan, 32, of San Bruno, was this week reported showing signs of improvement in his condition which, for a time, bordered on the critical side. Mr. Jordan was the lone survivor of an automobile crash two miles north of Laytonville Friday night which claimed the lives of three men in the most ghastly highway wreck in recent county history.

Who Victims Were.

Dead as a result of the crash are Alvin R. Fairwell, 48, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. employe of Oakland; his son, Alfred R. Fairwell, 21, recently discharged from the Army; Patrick O'Malley, 38, of Oakland, a mechanic.

Patient Improving.

Mr. Jordan, the only survivor, is in Howard Memorial Hospital under the care of Dr. Raymond A. Babcock, who yesterday afternoon said the injured man's condition was much more favorable than in the hours following the accident.

May Face Charges.

Reckless driving charges were filed against the driver of the ill-fated death car by Highway Patrolman Fred Hamilton, who investigated the wreck and tabbed it the "worst one-car accident I have ever investigated."

Flew 38 Feet.

Traveling north on Redwood Highway, two miles above Laytonville at Dill's gate, the car came off a brief hill on a straight stretch of pavement, literally flew across a gully while traveling 38 feet through space and rammed into a bank on the opposite side of the ravine, with such terrific force the right side of the car and the top were crumpled like a paper sack. The three men, their lives snuffed out in the crash, were plummeted into the front seat of the car, a tangled mass of inert humanity that could not be extricated from the wreck until the car had been lifted from its position on the bank. The new 1946 car, which was towing a small trailer, was demolished in the crash. The trailer was torn to pieces by the impact.

Crawled Out Of Window.

Mr. Jordan managed to crawl out the side window of the car and, in a daze, walked across the highway to an open space on the other side of the pavement, where he collapsed. Passers-by stopped and upon hearing his moanings, investigated, found him and notified authorities, who responded to the call and rushed him to the hospital here, where it was learned his injuries were near critical. Bodies of the dead men were taken from the wrecked car to the Mortuary.

Dozed At Wheel.

Cause of the accident was blamed on the driver's apparent dozing at the wheel, as no application of the car's brakes was noticeable on the pavement. The party had been drinking, according to Officer Hamilton, and a broken bottle of whiskey, which had been opened prior to the wreck, was found in the car.

Headed For Klamath.

The crash brought an abrupt and tragic end to an intended fishing trip on Klamath river, according to Officer Hamilton.

All Died Suddenly.

Victims of the accident were apparently killed instantly, Officer Hamilton said, being thrown through the car with such force death was inevitable. The wrecked car was taken to Laytonville by the Elliott Garage.

NEW HOME IS TO BE OCCUPIED OCTOBER 1

It will be a complete one-stop service unit offering facilities of efficient service and general repairs to the traveling public with a high grade of products and workmanship. Watch for announcement of the first display in Ukiah of Studebaker's newest and what has been generally acclaimed as the smartest car on the road, the Coupe For Five. It is new and different.

TALKED TO ROTARIANS

Three visitors from Sonoma county provided a very instructive and entertaining program for the Rotary Club. Edward Handley, Jack Murphy and Dale Gordon, all of Radio Station KSRO, gave a talk on confidence games. The moral was: "You can't beat the other man at his game." Harry M. Burke was chairman of the day.

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Sept. 16.—Final plans for the Mendocino County Fair and Apple Show to be held in Boonville October 4, 5 and 6, are rapidly being completed. All entertainment features have been taken care of, professional talent will provide the evening entertainment for all three nights—previous Fairs have depended on local talent to put on the Friday evening show. A different orchestra has been engaged for each evening's dancing. Greeott's Orchestra, of Ukiah, claimed by many to be this county's leading orchestra, will play either Friday or Sunday night, for Saturday an all-girl orchestra of 13, which includes a vocalist, from Oakland, will provide the music. These young women come highly recommended. They have completed engagements at the Palace and Fairmont Hotels in San Francisco and other fashionable night clubs. The third orchestra is understood to be now playing on a California radio network.

Send Out Premium Lists.

The premium list with its attractive awards totaling $20,000 is now being mailed out and other worthwhile prizes will be awarded contestants in many lines. Among the new features will be awards for hand work, which have not been allowed in previous Fairs here.

Grounds-Buildings Improved.

The Fair building has been treated to a coat of fresh paint and many other improvements made, among them a 100-foot well and new pressure system which will provide an abundance of water for the livestock at the barns. Work on the track commenced this week and a 1200-foot wire fence with steel posts set in concrete is being built.

Many Horse Contests.

The horse show will follow previous shows and a rodeo and saddle races will be included in the features each day.

A Big Carnival.

Craft Shows will provide amusement. They will install a merry-go-round, a Ferris wheel and one other ride for children and there will be the usual concessions.

To Have Dining Room.

Joe Silva, of the Orange City Hotel at Cloverdale, will operate the dining room in the Fair building and will serve meals there.

All Are Co-operating.

Splendid co-operation from the Farm Centers and Granges of the county is expected as most of them have signified their intention of exhibiting. Advertising has been held up, due to paper shortage and other uncontrolled conditions, but show cards and bumper strips are expected out this week.

Judge June, manager of the Fair, has made an appeal to all valley residents who may have rooms available for rent during the fair to list them with him, as he is already receiving inquiries from exhibitors who wish to reserve rooms.

A Difficult Season.

Hop picking here is dragging to a close. This week marks the fourth week in the H. J. June field and they expect to run a couple of days over the four weeks. The last of the hops are over-ripe and there will be considerable waste due to that condition. Many of the hills are being by-passed. Restrictions on hops this year are more severe than formerly, leaf and stem content allowed is so small pickers are unable to pick clean enough for the hops to pass requirements and additional workers are employed in the kiln to reclean them. The price paid in the June field is four and a half cents a pound.

Went To Register.

Misses Nancy MacKintosh and Bern MacAbee motored to Santa Rosa Tuesday to register at the Santa Rosa Junior College, which they will attend this year. This will be Miss MacKintosh's second year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hess were in San Francisco during the first of the week.

Wed In Reno.

PLENTY OF DEMOCRACY

A SYNDICATED WRITER in the Scripps-Howard papers is perplexed so few people are coming to America from foreign countries these days, in view of the fact the quotas of immigration are far from being filled. He wonders what is the matter with them and then he goes on to ask:

Where else can they buy fountain pens that will write under water? Do they, too, have faucets with electric eyes, which automatically spurt a palmful of soap into any hand that breaks the beam?

Surely they can't be thinking that we are a nation of strikes and discord, of inflation and black markets, with inadequate housing and educational facilities. We can give them two-bit milkshakes and two-dollar movies. They can get all the good simple food they want in restaurants for 20 or 30 bucks.

There's virtually no apartment problem. For as little as $20,000, plus maintenance charges, you can buy a co-operative apartment, or by paying $5,000 for the furniture and a paltry $4,500 a year, a guy can get a dream of a little one-bedroom job.

Why, over here we have everything — cakes that play "Happy Birthday" and gowns especially devised for ladies who are planning divorce and want to make a hit with the judge. Who else today has plastic coffins and special toys for children, like that dandy seismograph model which keeps the kiddies hep to earthquakes?

Even in crime we are out in front, keeping step with progress. While Montmarte thugs garrote old ladies in alleys, for a few sous, our bright young men conduct a series of profitable heist jobs with two-way radios — walkie-talkies.

Do the citizens of France have quiz programs that pay off in ice boxes, nylons, butlers, maids and gems? How are they fixed in Czechoslovakia for homes with closets devoted exclusively to light bulbs?

If democracy is what they are looking for, we still have it. Recently one man kicked the country into a state of crippled helplessness, and nobody shot him.

The idea that we already have inflation is ridiculous. I know where you can get neckties for as little as $25 apiece, and a steak rarely costs more than $3. In some bars a gent can get fried for $25, and anybody can buy a second-hand car for a couple of thousand.

All these things the people of Europe could have if they just turned up at the consulates, because there are plenty of vacancies in the quotas. Do you suppose that they think we have, too long, confused progress with gadgetry, and actually aren't much better off than they are?

Sometimes I get an uneasy feeling that we aren't as smart as we always thought, and the world is beginning to catch on.

THE ELECTION STORY

(The Orange Daily News)

WHAT, IF ANY, POLITICAL STORY has been told by the primary elections throughout the nation? With but one exception it is hard to arrive at any analysis that would cover all the results.

The one exception is the demonstrated lack of control, or influence, of the CIO-PAC combination on the labor vote. Just as that combination was in no way helpful to the candidates it espoused, and was probably harmful, here in California, the same thing has happened in practically all other states. Candidates supported by CIO-PAC have in nearly all cases been defeated. It is not an influence to be feared politically.

Local rather than national conditions or issues have been responsible for the defeat of some of those who have long figured in national public life. Local conditions have, in other cases, made victory possible for some who are nationally considered as undesirables. That was the case both in Mississippi and Georgia. National issues, as such, played no part in the primaries in either state.

In Wisconsin it was local state politics that defeated Senator LaFollette. He had, in the past, split the Republican party in that state; he had caused it to lose state elections; he had repudiated the party he was now asking for support. Political leaders have long memories, and the influence of the old timers was undoubtedly thrown to the opposing candidate, as a matter of retaliation for past offenses. That influence was enough to defeat the man who, in the past, had caused the defeat of the party.

In Minnesota and Nebraska it was local interests and conditions that decided the senatorial contests. Former Governor Stassen is recognized as the Republican leader of the state. As Stassen goes, so goes the Republican party, and Stassen was against Shipstead. In Montana, Senator Wheeler had outworn his welcome so far as the Democratic party leaders were concerned. The support of the President neither helped nor hurt him. It did not change, or modify, any local condition. The party leaders, with a scurrilous campaign, beat him.

The result in California was not affected by national issues, but by local issues, and conditions. What was true in California has been practically true in all other states. The primaries have proven nothing as to national trends. The November elections will be different. When those votes are counted we will know where we are going. It will either point the way of continuance of our free enterprise economic system, or to a form of state socialism and continued regimentation by an army of bureaucrats.

This announcement was made today by Assemblyman Ernest E. Debs, chairman of the group, which is composed of seven senators and seven assemblymen. "Under the airport appropriation bill passed in the last session of Congress, California was allotted approximately $18,000,000 to be apportioned among cities and counties in the state," Assemblyman Debs explained.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, while chairman of the State Board of Prisons of California

PROOF OF GUILT OF LINDLEY IS LACKING

William M. Lindley, to my way of viewing the case, was unintentionally "fingered" by officers, after they had permitted the actual murderer of little Jackie Hamilton on the Cunningham ranch in Sutter county to evade them. — Mr. Lindley is in San Quentin condemned row now and his fate hangs on the report Judge Donald Geary, of Sonoma county, who has been appointed by the Supreme Court to hold hearings and investigations. I talked to Mr. Lindley and tried to, as impartially as I could, piece together the story I already knew with what Mr. Lindley told me and, I believe, he is an unfortunate victim. Until a nomad, sometimes termed "Red" or "Apricot," and who may turn out to be Fred Hanks, is picked up and made to explain his actions the day the little girl was murdered, the case will never be satisfactorily explained, according to the way in which I see it. There is also a figure, Clay Stockton, who is mythical-like and may, in the end, turn out to be Hanks. William M. Lindley was convicted of murder and under death sentence when Lieut. Governor Fred F. Houser, in the absence from the state of Governor Earl Warren, reprieved him and Al. Mathews, a Los Angeles attorney, has since stubbornly fought the condemned man's case. This week I have received a copy of an affidavit, signed by Bob Olson and a statement made by Bob Brookshire I am reproducing. All of the men listed, as principals, suspects and witnesses are junglemen, hoboes or itinerant orchard and field workers. The case of William Lindley has been widely publicized; much is lacking in a complete set-up, yet William M. Lindley sits in a death cell at San Quentin. The Robert Olson affidavit and the statement of Bob Brookshire follow:

Marysville, Aug. 5, 1946.
To Whom It May Concern:

I, Bob Olson, give this information of my own free will and knowledge:

I was employed on August 18, 1943, on the Frank Cunningham ranch, 1½ miles south of Yuba City, on Garden Highway, Sutter County, California. During the period I was employed here I was acquainted with a man known to me as "Red", who was about six feet tall, slender build, light red hair, red face, combed his hair pompadour, his features were sharp and his eyes light. I would estimate his age not over 35 years. He was noticeably attentive to young girls and of an aggressive, forward and bragging nature. He was a heavy wine drinker and was very lazy and worked very little. His face was always clean shaven and he would wear expensive clean shirts. On the afternoon of August 19, I had occasion to drink wine with "Red" in the hop field. I would estimate the time around 3:30 o'clock. During the time we were drinking "Red" kept reminding me of the time and seemed anxious that I remember the time of day we were together. I thought it strange, because I had not heard anything regarding the death of Jackie Hamilton. I noticed scratches on his face and his excuse for the scratches was he had walked into a palm tree on the ranch. On the evening of August 19, 1943, a fight occurred on the Cunningham ranch in which this "Red" was involved. I was not present but heard about it through other hop pickers. "Red" is reported to have bragged about how he would have attacked the little girl (Jackie Hamilton)—If he had been her attacker, he would have made sure she would not have lived to talk. He said he would have held her in the water to make sure she was dead. The other pickers and workers became angry because of his remarks and requested he leave the ranch. A fight ensued in which "Red" was attacked.

The following morning between 11 and 12 o'clock (noon) I was questioned by two officers, whom I did not know, who asked me if I was drinking wine with "Red" on the afternoon of August 18, between 3:30 and 3:00 o'clock. I told them "Yes," and they asked me how I knew the time. I told them the Foreman had given me the time, as I did not want to be a witness; I am a transient and I was drinking. My thought at the time was that, they were trying to get information about the fight the night previous as I still had not heard anything about the death of Jackie Hamilton. After hearing of the death of Jackie Hamilton, I realized that "Red" had deliberately tricked me into alibiing for him because I realized at that time we had been drinking on the 19th of August instead of August 18 between 3:30 and 4:00 p.m., as I had told the officers.

Either two or three days later, I met "Red" in the Marysville jungles and his remarks to the crowd which was assembled in the jungles with him on seeing me was "That man is peoples, he put me on the ground." His remarks angered me but because of my fear of getting into a fight which would land me in jail, I kept quiet. "Red" kept Jackie Hamilton's death on his mind and questioned each and every one present and arriving if the officers had captured Jackie Hamilton's killer. He was very upset, nervous and concerned and he hollered and carried on all during the next few nights. He would at times get up during the night, drink and sing love songs. This went on as long as I was there which was about three nights. The other denizens of the jungles were disgusted and suspected "Red" of having committed the crime. The boys and myself felt sure "Red" was guilty but we were all reluctant to go to the police because many of us had floaters and felt sure we would be lodged in jail.

During the time I was in the jungles, "Red" gave away an expensive tan broadcloth shirt, which he had been wearing ever since I met him, to a tramp who was catching a freight train out of town, and in exchange took a blue work shirt, at that time valued at 50 cents, and wore it.

During the time I was in the jungles, a small Indian, "Red's" partner, came into the jungles and they started to argue and "Red" refused to fight and the Indian said "All you will do is to slip up behind a little girl and put her eyes out with sand." "Red" did not deny or answer the little Indian but simply ignored the remark but that night "Red" hollered the entire night. "Red" told me he had told the officers he was not fishing that day, but told me he was. He said he heard the little girl say: "Keep that red-headed man away from me." "Red" also said "The little fool was blind and couldn't see me." We all told him to shut up about the crime as we resented him talking of the dead in that manner. One of "Red's" close associates was Bill Owens. I understood that "Red" was an ex-convict from Arizona, in fact he bragged about it.

My only interest in this case is to right a wrong which I feel I have done by keeping silent all this time and has made an innocent man suffer. I further wish to state I am not acquainted with William Marvin Lindley and I have never seen the man.

(Signed) Bob Olson.

Statement.

In August, 1943 I was employed on the Cunningham Ranch in Yuba City. I knew a man by the name of Red. He camped right near me. My son also was employed there that year. He was 15 years of age. Red was about six feet tall, red-complexioned, neat, clean shaven and had red hair. I was there when the fight occurred but I don't know the party Red was fighting with. The next day after the fight, was the last time I saw him. My son mentioned in this statement is now in the Marines. While home on leave in Stockton this summer he told his mother about an incident in 1943 in Yuba City. He said he had taked to Red on the river bank on the afternoon the little girl was killed. Red was about 200 yards from the boathouse. He said Red was fishing. I know this to be true because I walked down there with him and went on to the boathouse.

Bob Brookshire.

MALCOM COOMBS IS SHOWING GREAT GRIT

Malcolm Coombs, well known on the coast where he lived as a boy, lost his right forearm in a conveyor in a shingle mill at Scotia Saturday. Particulars are not at hand. Mr. Coombs is understood to be operating a shingle mill of his own, but the accident occurred in another mill where, presumably, he was assisting at the time. Word of the accident was relayed to Mr. Coomb's uncle, James Barton, of Mendocino, by the injured man's sister, Mrs. Clare Wilsey, of Ukiah, who went to Humboldt county following the accident. There was considerable loss of blood and the injury was very painful. Mr. Coombs is in the Scotia Hospital, and is improving rapidly. He has not allowed the injury to get him down; he is already using his left hand for writing, and is directing the operation of his mill from the hospital.

Many of the city streets in Ukiah are in bad shape and should be attended to before the rainy season sets in.

The tourist season along the Mendocino coast has brought more autoists to that section than ever before.

SUPERVISOR A SENSIBLE MAN PUBLIC SAYS

Will Not Replace A Bridge Which Fell Recently

SHIFTS ROAD INSTEAD

New Highway Will Be On East Of Outlet To Underpass

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Sept. 16.—Who wants to be a police officer in Willits? The salary is satisfactory but the city council, so far, has been unable to get suitable men to fill the positions which were filled temporarily. The trouble started when the force of four officers resigned on account of a difference of opinion with a majority of the city councilman. Frank Butts, a former officer, was placed temporarily in charge as chief and then he resigned. Floyd Cruger, another ex-officer, then took the job and now he has resigned. A recall election will probably be held this fall to vote whether or not to recall Councilman A. G. Gray, who is charged with being the cause of the trouble.

A Sensible Plan.

Supervisor E. E. Safford has decided to build a new piece of road which will do away with the necessity of constructing a new structure across Outlet creek east of Longvale station to take the place of the bridge which collapsed recently when a heavily loaded log truck drove over it. It is said the new road construction cost will be less than required to build a new bridge. The road will start at the site of the old bridge and follow the east side of the creek to a point south of the underpass. This will also shorten the distance between Willits and Covelo and be much more satisfactory in every way. It is quite probable the State Highway will take over a portion of this new road and build another bridge across the creek a short distance south of Longvale. This survey was made some years ago and is not a new theory.

To Vote Soon.

Heavy School Attendance.

The schools of the Laytonville-Willits Union District were opened last week with a record-breaking attendance. A total of 915 pupils were enrolled the first day and this is expected to be raised to at least 1,000. The largest enrollment is in Willits elementary school, where 415 youngsters are now being taught. Eighty-five of these are first graders. In Willits High the enrollment is 280—107 of these are in Junior High and 173 in Senior High.

Changes Necessary.

At Laytonville the enrollment was 170 in the elementary school and 50 in high school, a total of 220 pupils. The increased attendance has made it necessary for local school authorities to make some changes in the schedules at local schools, also at Laytonville. In the Willits grammar school the first two grades only will be put on double shift, coming to school at 8:30 in the morning and returning home about noon. The second shift in these two grades will start at 12:30 and run until about 4 p.m. Balance of the school will run on a regular schedule, starting at 9 a.m. and finishing the day's work at 3:20 p.m. This arrangement will not only allow teachers to handle the classes in proper order, but will enable the authorities to take care of transportation of pupils without any new buses, which would be impossible to get right now if they were needed.

Lost In Fire.

A small cabin on the property of Mrs. Mary Sirizzotti was burned with its contents Thursday night. The personal belongings of three men were burned and their loss is estimated at about $1,000 with no insurance.

Mrs. Mary Hayes visited San Francisco last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O'Donnell, of San Francisco, were houseguests at the Russell Frost home last week.

Brightens Up Club.

A sparkling new three-way Neon sign was installed over the entrance to Merrill Williams' Sportsmen's Club, to add new luster to the bright lights of Willits' Main street. The attractive sign is topped by a lighted deer head and horns, which lights up alternately with the name of the establishment.

Club's New Officers.

The Women's Improvement Club held a meeting at Quadrio Park at which new officers were installed. Mrs. Lee Williams is the new president and was installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Roy Good. The Club voted to give support to the county library service, a service which brings rural districts the privileges of a circulating library. A luncheon was served.

Came From City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Silverthorne were here from San Francisco visiting at the Fred Nelson home. Both are former residents of Willits.

Mrs. W. A. S. Foster and daughter, Mrs. Warren Burr, of Santa Rosa, visited Miss Ruby Fairbanks last week.

Go To Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Livingston and children were here last week packing their personal belongings for shipment to their new home in Walron, Arkansas, where Mr. Livingston has purchased a drug store. The Livingstons, father and son, conducted a local drug store for a number of years and sold it recently.

Fell Down Bank.

E. H. Hasty of Orland lost his balance while hunting and fell down a 60-foot cliff and suffered paniful bruises but none of a serious nature. Mr. Hasty was confined to Howard Memorial Hospital 24 hours under the care of Dr. R. A. Babcock.

Sustained Bad Fall.

Lew Bassett fell off a truck loaded with posts in front of the Johnson hardware store Tuesday afternoon. He was attempting to tighten a chain around the posts when the chain binder snapped. He was standing as high as the marquee in front of the store and was thrown first against it and then fell to the pavement. Mr. Bassett was taken to the hospital where it was found no bones were broken but he will be on crutches several days.

Organize Club.

A "Knowland for Senator" Club was organized here last week with Earle Johnson president, Fred Foord vice-president and W. F. Whitney secretary.

In Old Home.

Mrs. Guy Akins and son, Tom, were here last week visiting friends. They formerly lived here.

Mrs. Mary Dean is here from Los Angeles visiting her aunt, Mrs. Rene Redd.

Married Tuesday.

Miss Roxy Crispin and Lester Russel Houx, both of Garberville, were married by Judge Fred Foord Tuesday afternoon.

Had No License.

Leland M. Sawyers, 18, of Laytonville, was cited by Highway Patrolman Fred Hamilton for driving without a driver's license, after a car he was operating rammed into a guard rail 19 miles north of Willits, Sunday. Neither Mr. Sawyers nor two companions in the vehicle were hurt in the mishap. Crashing of the car into the heavy fence was attributed to failure of the steering mechanism of the vehicle, according to Officer Hamilton.

Start On Homes.

Concrete foundations for 48 FPHA dwelling units to be constructed on East Valley street were poured last week and construction will be started immediately and it is hoped to have them completed by the middle of November. These units are for veterans of the Global War. The buildings will be of wood construction and a parking lot for occupants' automobiles will be provided on the property, and grass lawns will be planted at the front of each unit. Leland Cureton, of Willits, has been named as manager of the dwellings.

An Awning Accident.

The heavy awning in front of The Safeway store fell to the sidewalk Monday noon. Fortunately only one person, Jim Heap, was standing there at the time and he stood close to the building and was not injured. It is said the awning was jarred by the frame of a tall truck the day before.

Caring For Case.

Little Jean Goree, three-and-one-half-year-old local youngster, recently stricken with infantile paralysis, has been transferred to the Children's Hospital in San Francisco, where she is receiving treatment. Arrangements for her transfer to the city were made by the Mendocino County Chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Fund, and this chapter is responsible for all the little girl's expenses while she is in the city. First reports she could not receive aid from this fund were entirely unfounded and officials of the fund acted promptly in the matter as soon as it was brought to their attention.

Slept While Driving.

Duane Foord met with an automobile accident on the Lake county highway, near Cold Creek bridge, early Sunday morning while returning home from a dance. It is thought he went to sleep and the car rolled over. Mr. Foord was first taken to a hospital in Ukiah and the following day brought to Howard Memorial Hospital but his injuries are not serious.

TIRES STOLEN BY STATION THIEVES

John Freitas returned from Washington last week to be informed that his Shell Service Station at Laytonville had been robbed of four new tires, all the same size. Other tires were not taken.

Arm Broken In The Hills — Taken To Hospital

Angeles and Eureka concerning the serious illness of his wife and of his mother. His wife is in a hospital in Los Angeles and will undergo an operation as soon as her strength permits. Mr. Gillaspie's mother, Mrs. S. E. Gillaspie, is very ill in a hospital in Eureka.

Came To See Mother.

Mrs. G. A. Short, of Bald Mountain, visited her mother, Mrs. May Perry, in Covelo last week.

Visited Her Property.

Mrs. M. Tuttle and young son, of Los Angeles, arrived in Covelo, Thursday, enroute to her mountain ranch in the Long Ridge section. This ranch formerly belonged to Frank Morris and was purchased by him from William Ryan and wife, who resided there for some time. Mrs. Tuttle's husband bought this property from Mr. Morris, intending to make a summer home of it. He passed away soon after acquiring it and his wife came in to look the property over. As she had never been there it was necessary to have some one go with her who knew the country. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haydon drove out with Mrs. Tuttle. This is Henry's old home so he proved most efficient and Mrs. Tuttle gained an idea of her holdings there. She will come back in October. Mrs. Tuttle returned to Los Angeles Saturday.

Yellowjackets' Victim.

Gary Niesen, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Niesen, while riding the Bar Z Ranch range with his grandfather, Clarence O'Ferrall, had the misfortune to run into a yellowjacket nest with his horse, with the result he was thrown and his arm broken. Mr. O'Ferrall could not catch the horse the little boy was riding because of its frantic efforts to rid itself of the stinging insects.

Taken To Willits.

Mr. O'Ferrall carried the boy to the nearest telephone (the Bar Z Ranch) and called the child's parents. Mrs. Niesen quickly went out, bringing her son in and on to Willits for medical aid.

Victim Of Own Gun.

Don Lenney, of Los Angeles, narrowly escaped being killed Admission Day. While hunting on the Bud Barnes range with Mr. Barnes, Harold Tuttle and William Drewry, he was accidentally shot through both hands by a 30-30 rifle, the bullet missing his head only because he was leaning back against the car. Both hands covered the muzzle of the gun, when it was in some unknown manner discharged. The right hand was the most seriously injured.

Gotten To Surgeon.

Mr. Lenney was at once taken by Harold Tuttle to the ranger station, where Mr. Lenney was told by telephone of the accident and help was immediately sent to the hills. First aid was given and the injured man was taken to Willits for surgical aid.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenney had come to Covelo for a visit with Mrs. Lenney's sister, Mrs. William Drewry and family.

Opening Of School.

The Round Valley Union High School will open Monday, September 23, at 8:40 a.m. Registration will be held Friday, September 20, beginning at 9 a.m. The busses will follow the same route as last year but will be 20 minutes earlier.

The Teaching Staff.

Principal Eldor R. Lehfeldt will teach science and music. Mr. Lehfeldt comes from Selma, where he taught chemistry and physics. Prior to that time he was a teacher and vice-principal in Weaverville. Mrs. Hilda Hagne, of Covelo, will teach commercial subjects, English, and will be librarian. Myron Ronne, who comes from Chicago, where he taught some time before going to Alaska where he had interesting experiences in the Territorial Guard during the war. Miss Inez K. Gillette will teach home-making and related art as she did last year in Covelo. Miss Beatrice Steger completes the faculty. She is a recent graduate of the University of California, living in Danville.

Need A Home.

Myron Ronne is a new teacher at Covelo High School from Chicago. His wife, Louise, who is also a school teacher, and his two children, David and Nancy, will join Mr. Ronne as soon as he can find living accommodations. During the war Mr. Ronne was a Territorial Guard in Alaska.

DEER HUNTER KILLED NEAR COUNTY LINE

In the hills west of Cloverdale, tragedy overtook a party of young deer hunters Sunday, when David Meyer, who lived on a ranch north of Santa Rosa, was accidentally killed as his rifle jammed and the shell exploded in his face. A short time after calling out his "gun was jammed," companions of young Meyer found him lying on the ground, fatally wounded through the left eye. Two of the hunting party said the cartridge had exploded in the open breech chamber of the rifle apparently when Mr. Meyer attempted to force the mechanism closed after the bolt of the gun came away in his hands.

WERE ON COAST

Mrs. Newel Rawles and daughter, Faith, and Aunt Lelia, of Ukiah, visited the Joe Rinolda family on the southcoast last weekend. Attorney Rawles was after one of those big bucks that are said to inhabit the highest, roughest mountain peaks between Boonville and Ukiah.

HAD HOUSEGUEST

Miss Elise Galtier, of San Francisco, was a guest at the home of Miss Rose Porzio. This is the first time they have visited since they both graduated from McMaster-Payne College four years ago.

GO TO OREGON

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Bean are enjoying a motor trip to Washington points.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cornelius, of Lake county, were in town Wednesday a few hours, returning later to their home near Upper Lake.

Mrs. S. Stammen left for Portland, Oregon, recently for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Will Van Bebber and her mother, Mrs. Louise Jennings, were here from Willits Friday.

Mrs. Ed. Haydon, a former resident, came up from Santa Rosa last week for a visit with friends.

PRIESTS BELOVED HONORED BY PARISHIONERS

The surprise dinner party given at Crinelli & Venturi Cafe to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of Father Adrian Sharkey, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, and the Silver Jubilee of his assistant, Father Finnian Carroll, proved one of the most interesting and successful social functions held in this city in many years. Some 150 members and friends of the church attended the dinner and 50 late-comers, who could not be accommodated, were turned away. Priests, about 24 in number, came from all parts of northern California to felicitate and pay tribute to the honored members of the Franciscan Capuchin Order.

The attractive dining room with its indirect multi-colored lighting, presented a scene of rare beauty resembling a flower filled fairyland. One large table was set in the form of an open square and the interior space was occupied by other long tables. Card tables were set up in the adjoining room. The tables were artistically decorated with bouquets of Fall flowers in brilliant shades of gold to develop the Jubilee color scheme. Gold colored souvenir place cards displaying a picture of Father Sharkey and giving a short sketch of his life were highly prized by their recipients. The artistic cards were designed, printed and generously donated by Ben O. Foster.

Father Sharkey received congratulatory cablegrams from the British Isles and many parts of the European, African and American continents. A cablegram from Cork, Ireland, was delivered to Father Sharkey during the dinner hour and a cable of congratulation from Archbishop of Delhi and Simla, India, a former classmate.

Those seated at the speakers' table were Father Sharkey and Father Carroll, guests of honor; Father Donatus Ahern, of Willits, and Father James Doyle, of Morgan Hill; visitors from out of town; Mrs. J. C. Johnson and Miss Katherine M. Gobbi, ranking members of the Catholic Ladies League of Ukiah, and Mrs. Mary Frati, president of the League; Mrs. Helena Vassar, president of the Catholic Ladies League of Hopland; A. R. Thomas, Toastmaster, and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Brien.

At the request of the toastmaster, divine blessing was invoked by Father Sharkey.

The elaborate dinner menu was perfectly planned, the finest food was carefully prepared by culinary experts, and the meal was deftly served by trained waitresses. Many persons present, who are accustomed to dining out, observed the dinner was the most delicious they had attended in a public place in years. The menu included soup, salad, a variety of relishes and hors d'oeuvres, spaghetti, raviolis, fried chicken, three vegetables and dessert.

The dinner party was a complete surprise to Father Sharkey and the gathering was amused at a description of the attractions used to induce Father Sharkey to accept a dinner invitation, so the guest of honor could be gotten to the dinner party at the psychological moment.

Father Sharkey expressed his deep appreciation of the honors accorded him by his parishioners. The encomium delivered by Father Ahern, of Willits, was interspersed with the wit characteristic of those who come from the Emerald Isle.

Father James Doyle, of Morgan Hill, Santa Clara county, expressed his gratitude for the help given him by Father Sharkey when the former was located at Cloverdale some years ago. He said he would come many more hundred miles to attend Father Sharkey's Golden Jubilee since Father Sharkey had honored him some time ago by attending his Silver Jubilee.

Father Roger Anderson paid tribute to his superior by relating an interesting anecdote. He said three persons were asked what caused the most sadness in life. One mentioned poverty, another sickness and a third asserted the greatest sorrow must be looking back on an ill spent life and realization of having bungled one's opportunities. Father Roger said if the last proposition were true, he concluded its converse must also be true and that the greatest joy must be looking back on a well-spent life and receiving the plaudits of one's contemporaries. Father Anderson concluded this happiness must now be experienced by Father Sharkey.

Major W. G. Golden, Mendocino County Welfare Agent, spoke for the laymen of the parish. He made a very interesting and polished address which pleased both the clergy and laity.

An interesting feature of the affair was the presentation of gold and silver gift baskets, respectively, to Father Sharkey and Father Carroll. The well-worded presentation speeches were made by Mrs. Mary Frati, president of the Catholic Ladies League. The gifts were delivered to their recipients by charming little Miss Patty Weber.

The benediction was pronounced by Father Finnian Carroll.

Arrangements for the delightful dinner party were made by Father Roger Anderson, assisted by an able committee including Mrs. A. E. Garavanta, Mrs. John Isnard, Mrs. Peter Frati, Mrs. Alex Thomas, Ben O. Foster, Louis Bartolomei and Frank Brennan of Hopland.

Father Sharkey's Golden Jubilee and Father Carroll's Silver Jubilee were celebrated at a high mass said at St. Mary's Catholic church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 11, 1946. Following the church ceremonies, the local clerics and 24 visiting priests were entertained at a luncheon at the Albertinum School.

Different ways to enjoy tomatoes

FRIED TOMATOES WITH CURRY SAUCE—Serve these as an accompaniment to cold lamb or veal or as a luncheon dish. Wash firm ripe tomatoes; remove stem ends; cut crosswise in ½ to ¾-inch thick slices. Dip in flour seasoned with salt and pepper, covering both sides of slices. Fry in bacon drippings about 2 minutes; turn carefully with pancake turner to hold shape; brown other side. Take up on a hot platter. To the drippings add a tablespoon each of chopped parsley, green pepper, and onion, and a tablespoon each of curry powder and flour. Cook, stirring, 2 or 3 minutes. Add a cup of top milk or undiluted evaporated milk; season with salt and pepper. Cook 2 or 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Pour over tomatoes and serve at once. Allow 1 tomato for each serving. This amount of sauce is sufficient for 6 tomatoes.

FRESH TOMATO SOUP—Soup made this way isn't likely to curdle, unless you get too generous and add too much tomato for the amount of milk. Be sure to add the tomatoes to the milk and not the other way round. Peel 6 medium-sized tomatoes; cut up tomatoes and add them, cold, to 6 cups of cold milk. Put over medium heat and heat just to boiling. (If you can't watch constantly to be sure it doesn't boil, put in top of double boiler and heat over hot water.) Serve immediately. Season with salt, pepper, and butter or margarine just as you take the soup from the heat. Serves 6.

The reception was held in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elsie A. Parks, 2405 Twenty-third street, Eureka, where the rooms and the bride's table were decorated with white gladioli, asters and magnolias. Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Nellie Wilson, the bride's great-aunt, and Mrs. William McClellan, with Mrs. Curtis Wilson at the guest book table and Miss Lela Parks and Mrs. Fred Parks, the bride's aunts, assisting in receiving guests. The bridal party and family members went to the Big Four for the wedding dinner at 7 o'clock.

Sailing Was Delayed.

Mrs. C. L. Goodenough motored to San Francisco Monday morning to meet a friend, Miss Mary E. Eide, who was to have left on the chartered ship, USS Marine Lynx, in a party of 400 missionaries for China. Due to the strike, the ship is still in port. Miss Eide is from Iowa, Mrs. Goodenough's native state, and less than two weeks ago visited Mrs. Goodenough's mother there, which added to the pleasure of the reunion of old friends. While in the city Mrs. Goodenough attended the bon voyage tendered the missionaries at the San Francisco Opera House where there was a processional of the 40 missionaries and Editor Luce, of Life Magazine, was speaker. Mrs. Goodenough also attended a tea in Chinatown, held in their honor. Miss Eide has been in China three years, first going out in 1920, serving six years in each term. She will serve in Nanping, Fukien province, as a teaching Evangelist. During her stay here since 1941 she taught at Tule Lake camp.

Lists Are Available.

The Premium List booklets for the Anderson Valley Apple Show and Fair have been delivered to the Farm Advisor's office by The Republican Press and those interested in obtaining a copy should call for the same. There is a splendid lot of information for contemplated exhibitors to be found in the almost 100 page little volume. A great deal of interest is being manifested in the Fair and it will undoubtedly be larger than any so far held in Anderson Valley.

Well Looked After.

Intelligent management has been applied to the Fairgrounds and set up of the organization as it never before has received and this is bound to be reflected in the show at Boonville next month. A fine program is being built up and their will be a lot to entertain the crowds which are sure to be on hand opening day and continue until the Fair is over. Track events and livestock displays will be much larger than usual. Manager H. J. June is devoting a lot of attention to careful preparation for the Fair he is entrusted to make "bigger and better" than ever, and he can be relied upon to deliver one hundred percent.

BRIDGEPORT SCHOOL HAS BEEN CLOSED

The doors of the old Bridgeport school house remained closed when school opened Monday. Looks like a sad old derelict. Many of our substantial citizens of today were educated in this little school and many fine teachers, from Frank Caughey down to Alma Mendosa, will always be fondly remembered. The children from Bridgeport now go by bus to Manchester.

The Cloverdale city council gave its stamp of approval Wednesday night to the application before the State Railroad Commission of American Bus Lines to inaugurate a competitive service on Highway 101. Citing the "milling industry in this community," and that there "is shortly to be a material growth in population of Cloverdale," the resolution urged approval of the franchise, stating it was in the best interests of Cloverdale and contiguous territory to have competitive bus transportation to and from this area.

SUPERVISOR SAFFORD OBTAINS FEDERAL AID FOR NEEDED ROAD

Laytonville To Jackson Valley Route Given A Grant Of $45,000 — Work To Be Started In Next Few Days

Supervisor E. E. Safford attended the Laytonville Chamber of Commerce meeting and took the Laytonville folks a good piece of news, which should have been welcome to everyone in that section. The news was Supervisor Safford has secured a Federal Aid appropriation in the sum of $45,000 to be spent on the Laytonville to Jackson Valley road immediately.

Had Worked Hard.

Supervisor Safford has been working on this grant some time, and now has assurance of the Federal officials he will get the money. It will be spent under supervision of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and it is understood A. R. McEwen, Willits contractor, will do the work, starting next week.

Will Greatly Aid.

This sum of money is expected to put the present road in fine condition, probably the best it has ever known, with a good gravel surface that will stand up through the coming winter. The sum available is not large enough to pay for any reconstruction, but it will be possible to take off points, widen the road in narrow places and put a good surface on it all the way through.

Carries Heavy Traffic.

To all those patient people who have to use this road, this will be good news indeed. For the past few years, the road has carried a very heavy traffic, principally heavy lumber and logging trucks, and the road was never intended to carry that kind of loads. Consequently it has given way in many places, and has been rough and dusty at best.

FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Charles Everett Potter, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benson Potter, of Talmage, passed away south of Fresno, Friday morning. The young man is survived by his brothers, Floyd, Van and Warner, all of Talmage. Charles Potter was a school boy of Talmage. Funeral services will be held from the family home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with interment in the family plot. Services are under the auspices of the Ormsbee Chapel.

CAME FOR MEETING

Charles B. Melville and Henry Heitmyer came over from Fort Bragg last week to attend a meeting of the County Planning Committee of which they are members.

BIRTHDAY OF FRANCES HENLEY

(By Mrs. E. V. A. Murphey)

It is said in the Bible the world was made in six days and the Lord rested on the seventh day, and hallowed it. It is not said in the Bible Round Valley was made on the eighth day but it has always been suspected that was when it happened.

Round Valley is a fair land, flowing with milk and honey, and hops and watermelons. In the days before the white men came, the Indians called it Mesha-kai, the valley of the tall grass. Many white men came and looked upon it, and called it good. Later on, their women came also.

So it came that in eighteen hundred three score and nineteen years there came to this valley a young woman named Frances Eddle, even the one we delight to honor today as Frances Henley. As she was fair to look upon and smart besides, it came to pass many cattlemen and sheepherders, landowners and buckaroos cast sheep's eyes at her, asking her to trot with them in double harness, but she hearkened only to one, whose name was Whit Henley.

Among us she lived, becoming a part of our land, but when she was left alone, she heard the call for teachers in a far country, even across the Big Water among islands of the Philippines.

So she sailed away and soon was teaching little ones and big ones to read and write and sing "Yankee Doodle." Rainy and dry seasons came and went. While we heard from her but seldom, her memory grew not dim among those who loved her, but to the younger ones her name was as a legend until it came to pass that, when the years of her service were 30 and more, our friend dreamed a dream, and behold, she was young again and she stood with the friends of her youth in the valley which is called Round. Her heart was rejoiced, but when the dream ended and she awoke, she was exceeding sad, for she was still far off in the land of Filipinos, and many leagues of ocean must be crossed before she could reach the land she called home.

But not for long did she grieve. Having made up her mind, she called her man servants and her maid servants, her oxcarts and her pack mules and all the other beasts of burden, and speedily, with much conversation, they packed all her things, the big trunk and the little trunk, the straw telescope baskets and the tea basket, the hat boxes and the hand bags and the purse laden with wages for lo, these many years, and all of these things were placed in the carts and on the pack animals. Then they called a rickshaw and our friend sat therein until at last they came to a port where a great ship was waiting, and she embarked thereon in company with pilgrims of divers sorts, and after many days and nights she came again to the land that had called to her while she was yet far off.

Even unto the Valley that is called Round did she come, to her friends and aforetime neighbors, and all their hearts were lifted up in joy.

To the church and to the Chapter which she had helped from the beginning, to the little daily acts of kindness did she return.

Now it came to pass that the moon was nearly full, and it shone with great brilliance, and it was Autumn, the ripeness of the year.

It was at this time, on the ninth day of the ninth month that our friend had a birthday, and her friends, the old ones, the fat ones, the young ones and the thin ones, said: "Come now, let us make a great noise, let us sing for joy that our friend has reached another milestone and is with us in good health and spirits."

Saith another: "But what shall we sing?" And they answered with one voice: "Happy Birthday To You."

So at her dwelling they gathered, even at the little white house where the gray cat sits on the doorstep, and they brought gifts of many sorts, handkerchiefs and perfumes to put thereon, letter papers and dodads to show whom they delighted to honor.

They sang and they talked and they ate cookies and drank tea, for such is the custom of friendship in the valley that is called Round.

Wishes were many for health and happiness that the days of our friend might be long and that her health might prosper, among her friends in the land of her youth.

Selah.

Reached Structure As Walls Were Caving —Plan Shower

SHOWER PLANNED

Friday afternoon, September 20, at Guild Hall, the citizens of Hopland will give a miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Box. Household linens, utensils, furnishings of any sort and clothing will be very welcome. Please be on hand to help this worthy cause.

Special Correspondence of The Press

HOPLAND, Sept. 16. — The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Box on the Feliz Creek road, was razed by fire Sunday evening. The fire, of undetermined origin though thought to have been due to defective wiring, destroyed the house and all contents. Mr. and Mrs. Box were visiting friends at the time of the conflagration. Friends notified Mrs. Henry Cox, at the Telephone office, who was on duty at that time. Mrs. Cox, remembering with whom the Box family were at the time, immediately got in touch with them—imparting the tragic news. The owners arrived upon the scene in time to behold the fierce flames lick up the last of their possessions as the walls of their residence fell in. There was no insurance on the furnishings. The place, located high on a hill north of the Louis Heitz ranch, was originally known as the Jesse Shively ranch home. It was an eight-room modern residence with numerous outbuildings among which was a guest house. This was untouched by the fire and it is here Mr. and Mrs. Box are now living.

Came To Rescue.

Kind neighbors and friends have given them the use of extra bedding and other necessary household items as the brave couple try to carry on. Mrs. Box had left her purse and money contents in her bedroom Sunday and, of course, it was lost. They saved only the clothes they were wearing at the time.

The family has suffered much in the past year, due to a tractor accident which befell Mr. Box and long illness following—not only him, but also his wife who was in a bay area hospital for all set....

For Pre-irrigation of Field Crops

Hooked up as one energetic team to help bring bigger profits to California farmers—low-cost electric power, modern pumps and irrigating systems make possible the rotating of field crops and the bumper yields for which Northern California is justly famous.

Pre-irrigation of winter field crops saturates the soil with vital water—making subsequent irrigation unnecessary if there is normal rainfall through the growing season.

The time for planting winter crops will soon be here. Now is a good time for overhauling pumps and making necessary repairs to pipe lines. Then you'll be "all set" to go as soon as the fall crops are harvested. See your dealer.

Operators Reject Strikers' Offer And Will Stand On Their Stated Policy

In rejecting a proposed new consideration of "Union Security," made by the strikers against the Redwood mills, which were struck the first of the year, the operators have addressed the following reply to the Unionists:

Eureka, September 7, 1946.

Redwood District Council of Lumber & Sawmill Workers, Eureka, California.

Gentlemen:

Your letter of September 4, 1946, has been considered, and I have been requsted by each of the struck companies to inform you that your letter presents nothing that can possibly form the basis of an agreement between them and their locals.

Your proposal on union security is entirely unacceptable. It calls for a modified union shop. The struck companies will not grant union shop in any form—modified or otherwise.

The companies earnestly desire to see an end to the strike and to work in harmony with all of their employes, new and old, and with the union. They feel that the basis of settlement outlined in our letter to you of August 29 is sound and fair and offers the best hope for an early end to the strike. In the meantime, regardless of whether or when a settlement is reached, the companies will continue their operations, which, as you know, are expanding daily, and they will also continue to recruit new employes.

In connection with the resumption of operations and recruitment of new employes, there appears to be much confusion on the part of old employes who have not yet returned to their jobs as to their right to get their old jobs back when the strike is over. Their confusion as to their rights and as to the obligations of the companies in that respect is so great that we feel it should be clarified.

Under the law a company is not required either before or after a strike is settled to take back an old employe if his job has already been filled and if there is no other job open which he is qualified to fill.

The companies will not under any circumstances discharge or lay off any employe, either now or when the strike is settled, simply to make room for an old employe who wants his job back. Old employes — union or non-union alike — are now welcome and will continue to be welcome to return to their jobs until such time as their jobs are filled. But if a man's job is filled before he makes application to return to work he will not be reinstated until a job opens up which he is qualified to fill.

We mention this because we have been told tha tstriking employes have been assured by union leaders that the law requires that the companies must reinstate all old employes when the strike is settled. That is not the case, and we feel, in fairness to our old employes, that they should know exactly where they stand with regard to reinstatement.

Sincerely,
S. L. GREGORY,
On behalf of the struck Redwood companies.
